

COUNCIL FACES AFTERMATH OF JUNE MEETING; INSPECT TIBER

Financial and supervisory problems growing out of last month's reinstatement of Street Commissioner J. A. Tawney came before members of the borough council in many forms Tuesday evening at their regular session in the engine house which followed a one-hour inspection tour of the course of the Tiber through the town.

The question of whether Mr. Tawney is to be paid for the month he was "suspended" was brought up as was the month-old plan of having Mr. Tawney under the direct supervision of Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner who is paid for these extra duties while Mr. Tawney continues to draw his regular pay as street commissioner.

Councilman Joseph D. Kendlehart formally resubmitted his resignation not only as highway committee chairman but also as a member of the finance and health committees of council. President H. M. Oyler tabled the resignation and then council tabled the resignation from council presented orally last month by Charles W. Sterner, Jr. Mr. Sterner was not present Wednesday evening. The resignations followed Tawney's reinstatement last month.

The Kendlehart resignation was presented as the first item of business. President Oyler told the councilman, whose committee's action was "repudiated" last month, that he (Kendlehart) has done "a fine job" as highway chairman and urged him to continue in that position.

To Give Opinion
President Oyler asked council to act on the resignation but after some discussion Borough Solicitor E. V. Bulleit said he believed council action was unnecessary and said the matter could be handled by the president. Mr. Oyler promptly announced he was tabling the resignation.

A short time later Councilman Wilbur J. Stallsmith said Mr. Tawney had asked him why he was not paid for the month preceding his reinstatement. Solicitor Bulleit said he had advised Treasurer John H. Basehore to hold up the check pending council action. Mr. Bulleit offered to submit a legal opinion on the point of Mr. Tawney's claim to pay for the suspension period and no action was taken until that opinion is received.

Lack Two Chairmen
After council's unanimous action tabling Mr. Sterner's resignation from council, the borough body found itself without an active chairman of two of its most important committees—sewer and highway. L. D. Shearer, a member of the highway group, has been acting as chairman and President Oyler told council he has been handling many of the duties of the sewer chairman, resigned by Mr. Sterner.

Mr. Winebrenner pointed out that since Guy Bolen quit the highway department, Harry Turner has been serving acceptably as truck and roller operator but at laborer's pay of 45 cents an hour. Turner was voted $100 per month, the same pay that Bolen received.

Then Mr. Winebrenner asked for action continuing or stopping his supervisory duties over Mr. Tawney. One councilman pointed out the extra duties had boosted Mr. Winebrenner's June bill for services to $135. The borough engineer estimated that about $60 of that sum represented supervisory duties formerly handled by Tawney who is paid $110 monthly.

To Get Tiber Estimates
Without a formal vote it was agreed that L. D. Shearer, acting chairman of the Highway committee, shall handle the supervisory work with Mr. Winebrenner confining his services to regular engineering duties.

On the question of Tiber improvements, council decided no action can be taken until cost estimates are available later in the month and indicated a special meeting may be called to handle the matter. Mr. Winebrenner exhibited a seven-page report of T. H. Matthews, assistant engineer for the state Department of Forests and Waters, reporting on conditions he found in a survey of the Tiber and Winebrenner run water courses on June 18. The report was filed for study.

Reports "Progress"
Ordinances ordaining a 464-foot section of the Taneytown road as a borough street and ordaining the alley connecting Carlisle street and North Stratton street, north of the railroad, were adopted unanimously. The latter ordinance will not become effective until a deed for the land involved is secured from the property owner, Barton H. Foth.

LT. FRANCIS
Lieut. Geraldine Francis, daughter of Mrs. Paul Kebl, Fairfield, and Joseph Imber, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Imber, Harrisburg, were united in marriage at a nuptial mass this morning in St. Mary's Catholic church, Fairfield, by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Gotwalt.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Kebl.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg high school and studied nursing at a Harrisburg hospital. She is now an army nurse and is stationed at St. Petersburg, Florida. At present she is on a 10-day leave.

Mr. Imber is an instrument mechanic for the Atlantic Refining company at Philadelphia.

The couple has left on a wedding trip to the Pocono mountains.

SALVAGE FUNDS GO TO FIREMEN FOR 3 MONTHS

All money to be received from salvage materials sold by the Gettysburg Salvage committee during the next three months will be turned over to the local fire company toward the purchase or repair of equipment, it was decided Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Salvage committee at the YWCA.

Previously all sums collected here were divided between the Red Cross and the USO. The $20 collected from the drive during the last week will be given to the Red Cross and USO while all money collected from now until October 1 will be given to the firemen, it was stated. After October 1, the income will be divided between the fire company, the USO and the Red Cross.

Special efforts will be made during the next drive, to be held within the next three weeks, to secure brown paper, magazines, newspapers and corrugated board, all types of metals and tin cans.

The committee urged that residents tie all brown paper together in one bundle, card board in another, magazines in another and so on in order to facilitate the segregation of the various types of scrap materials. It was pointed out that during the last drive all types of salvage articles were lumped together in boxes and as a result it was almost impossible to separate the articles readily. All of the firemen and others who make the scrap collections are volunteering their time for the drives, it was pointed out, and do not have sufficient time to separate the various articles before turning in the scrap to a junk dealer.

Need Fats, Stockings
Rubber was dropped from the list of salvage articles for the next drive as the amount of scrap rubber on hand in the United States is said to be sufficient for the present.

Mrs. J. P. Dalby, chairman of the fats and stockings section of the salvage committee, urged all townspeople to assist in the collection of those articles. During the last several months, she asserted, the salvage of fats and stockings has fallen to a very low level in Gettysburg. She reminded patriotic housewives that every pound of fats is needed in the making of explosives to fire the guns used by members of our armed forces. Silk stockings are also needed with the silk having a variety of uses for the Army and Navy.

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, chairman of the committee, presided with Mrs. Dalby, Elmer H. Schriver, Mares Sherman, Miss Emily Brinkerhoff and Carl A. Baum in attendance.

ACCEPTED BY NAVY
The name of Edward Riley Sneeringer, 61 Main street, McSherrystown, was inadvertently omitted from the list of names published Saturday of the men accepted in the July draft call from Draft Board No. 1. He has been accepted by the Navy.

MELVIN A. DRY IS NEW COACH AT LOCAL H.S.

Melvin A. Dry, Bellefonte, a graduate of Lock Haven State Teachers' college in January, and a teacher and assistant coach at Lock Haven high school since December, 1942, has been named coach and physical education instructor at Gettysburg high school to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George S. Forney who was called into active service with the United States Navy.

Mr. Dry was appointed as new coach at the high school this morning following a conference with Superintendent Lloyd C. Keefeauver who was granted authority to act in the matter Tuesday evening at the July meeting of the school board.

Mr. Dry attended Bellefonte high school and academy and played football with the varsity squads at both schools. After graduation from the academy he was employed with a chain grocery store in Bellefonte for nine years and during that time he played semi-professional football with a number of teams in that area.

To Continue Sports

He entered Lock Haven State Teachers college four years ago and played as a center on the varsity football team. He was also a member of the varsity basketball squad. In December he was elected to the faculty of Lock Haven high school as a teacher of geography and assistant coach despite the fact that he did not graduate from Lock Haven state teachers' until January of this year. He served as a teacher at Lock Haven until the close of school there this summer. He will begin his new duties here in September.

The election of the new coach guarantees competitive sports at the high school this coming year, Mr. Keefeauver said today. Difficulty in obtaining a coach previously had led the school board to consider dropping sports from the school calendar. Whether any great number of interleague games will be held this year will depend upon transportation, it was stated. Last year a shortened schedule was followed because of gasoline rationing.

The new coach is married and the father of one child, a daughter.

Schools Open Sept. 7

The school board at its meeting Tuesday evening set September 7, the day after Labor Day, as the opening date for the Gettysburg schools. A meeting of the teachers will be held September 3 at the high school it was decided. No other dates were set for next year's school calendar.

Exonerations were granted to the tax collector for the Aushbaugh property which has been given over to Gettysburg college and for the Cyclorama which last year passed into the hands of the National Park. Both were taxed while they were the property of private individuals but are now tax free.

Mrs. Lindora Plattenburg asked to be released from her position as manager of the cafeteria. No action was taken on the request pending appointment of someone to fill the vacancy. Miss Miriam Waltemeyer was granted a military leave of absence. She recently joined the WAVES.

Board President Ralph Z. Oyler presided.

Turnpike-Maryland Link May Cross County In Big Post-War Highway Program

The probability that Gettysburg and Adams county may receive a share of the $288,000,000 post-war road construction program planned for Pennsylvania by the state Department of Highways loomed today in an announcement that plans include the construction of a 45-mile stretch connecting the Pennsylvania turnpike with the Maryland line.

The Gettysburg Times queried the Highway Department at Harrisburg this morning for information on the proposed route for the highway link but was told by C. H. Buckius, chief engineer, that no information is available now on exact routes to be followed by any of the proposed roads.

"The plans are only in preliminary stages and will require a great deal of work and study before details will be complete," he said. Asked if the Biglerville-Gettysburg-Littlestown route would not offer a logical route for the post-war stretch, Mr. Buckius said he could not say anything now about the course of the 45-mile link.

Child Swallows Toy Screw Driver

John Kerrigan, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Kerrigan, West Middle street, is a patient at the University of Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, where efforts are being made to remove a three-inch toy screw driver which the youngster swallowed Tuesday.

The child swallowed the screw driver while playing with parts of a toy carpenter set. He was taken to Dr. Raymond Sheely for treatment who ordered his removal to the Philadelphia hospital where Dr. Gabriel Tucker, a specialist, took the case. X-ray pictures were to be taken today.

MORE CHERRY PICKERS ARE NEEDED NOW

"Some of our boys in service are not going to get the cherry pie they could easily have unless additional persons help out in the cherry picking," County Agent M. T. Hartman declared today. At the same time he asserted that several thousands of dollars will be lost by county cherry orchard owners unless the help situation is improved at once.

Several hundred additional pickers are needed if a lot of cherries are not to rot on the trees, he claimed. Pointing out that cherries are a perishable crop that must be picked while ripe if there is not to be a great loss, the county agent said that most of the county's cherry crop will be processed for the government and will eventually wind up as part of the diet of members of the armed forces. The less cherries picked, the less the soldiers and sailors are going to have, he added.

Youngsters Help

Mr. Hartman paid high tribute to the youngsters of the county who are doing most of the picking, but he pointed out that where a youngsters can pick 10 buckets of cherries a day, a grown man with experience in picking can gather 25 buckets during the same time.

As a result, he said, two and a half times as many pickers are needed as would be needed if all were experienced adults.

The youngsters have to work just as hard for the 10 buckets they do pick as the experienced adult would to get 25 buckets, Mr. Hartman asserted, and "the youngsters are in there plugging and deserve every bit of credit they can be given." He especially urged additional youngsters and as many adults as possible to help out in the orchards during the remainder of the cherry picking season.

Those seeking the work can report to the Emergency Farm Labor office on Baltimore street adjoining the court house, he said.

David C. Stoner Given Promotion

Dr. David C. Stoner, son of Mrs. C. A. Stoner, Baltimore street, has been promoted to lieutenant commander in the United States Navy.

LT. Stoner is a graduate of Gettysburg college and the University of Pennsylvania hospital. He is now stationed in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Stoner is the former Miss Bette Miller, daughter of Mrs. Anna Miller, West Middle street.

war road project quoted John U. Schroyer, secretary of highways, as saying that the new road program "will criss-cross the state with a network of baby turnpikes designed to meet the demands of future pleasure as well as business travel."

"Pennsylvania is a highly industrialized state and also a producer of much farm produce," declared John U. Schroyer, secretary of highways, "and the system of planned roads will open every county to the markets."

Not To Be Toll Roads

"The modern highway network will also help promote Governor Martin's aim of attracting industry to the state."

Schroyer explained the 770 miles of new roads will be part of the free highway system and not toll roads as is the four-lane, easy-grade Pennsylvania turnpike which stretches 160 miles between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg.

"I'd call them baby turnpikes," the secretary added, "because they will accomplish the same purpose as the express highway—reduction of travel time and perfection of safety measures." Schroyer said Governor (Please Turn to Page 2)

SWARMS OF JAP BEETLES COVER PARTS OF TOWN

Captain Carl Taute, superintendent of the National cemetery, picked 1,500 Japanese beetles from bushes in the cemetery the other evening and confessed he was just about ready to give up trying to stop the infestation.

D. Sandoe Kitzmiller gathered thousands of other Jap beetles from the Evergreen cemetery and a number of residents of the south end of town reported picking hundreds of the beetles from their victory gardens and flower beds.

N. B. Schnurman, Baltimore street, sprayed carefully a rose bush in his yard only to find that while the spray kept the beetles away from the bush, as soon as a new bud appears the beetles settle on the bud in force and, if not checked immediately, soon eat the bud.

Worse Each Year

Those are some of the communique gathered Tuesday from embattled victory gardeners and others who are fearful that if the present plague of beetles is not stopped in the south end of town the pests will spread throughout the community and cause untold harm.

"The infestation is 20 times worse this year than it was last summer and if something is not done immediately the pests will be 20 times as plentiful next year," Captain Taute said. He pointed to jars containing approximately 20,000 beetles that he had picked from trees and shrubs in the national cemetery in the last three weeks or that had been caught in traps set around the cemetery to attract and destroy the insects.

Leaves of maple trees in the cemeteries and nearby yards riddled by the hungry beetles and garden crops similarly damaged were among the evidence shown to support contention of the residents that "something must be done and right now" about the infestation.

Hand Picking Helps

County Agent M. T. Hartman, who had warned previously of the bugs, asked that all residents of the town be on the lookout for the beetles and destroy them before they get a chance to do more damage. It is especially urgent that they be controlled this summer, he asserted, because next year war necessities may make it impossible to obtain arsenate of lead, best poison to use against the Jap beetle.

He urged that owners of a few rosebushes or similar plants attacked by the beetle, place a screening of cheesecloth over the bush or plant to protect it.

Mr. Hartman also urged that as much hand picking be done as possible. Dawn and dusk are the two best times of the day to pick the beetle by hand. Most sprays simply repel the beetle from the particular bush or tree and the beetle merely goes on to an unsprayed bush, he said.

Evergreens seem to be favorite resting places of the bugs although they apparently do not harm the evergreens. In the National cemetery Tuesday hundreds could be seen flying to maple trees to eat their fill and then return to evergreens.

Sprays Repel

County agent Hartman advised everyone to "apply a protective spray if beetles are in your locality. The leaves of shade trees and shrubs that are attacked by the Japanese beetle can be protected by spraying with arsenate of lead to which is added a sticker such as wheat flour. UNAPOCS REELECT SNYDER TO OFFICE

Jesse E. Snyder, Baltimore street, was re-elected first vice president of the Pennsylvania Branch of the United National Association of Post-office clerks at the annual convention held at Johnstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder were the only delegates at the convention from Adams county, with Mr. Snyder representing the Gettysburg branch of the post office clerks.

NEW CURFEW IS STUDIED HERE

The question of whether Gettysburg should adopt a curfew rule was laid before council Wednesday evening by Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer for consideration by the borough fathers.

The present 1913 ordinance ruling boys under 15 and girls under 20 off the streets after 9 p. m. was described as "not adequate" by Mr. Pfeffer who said a new measure being circulated by the state Department of the Interior as a model is much more workable. It establishes a uniform age limit of 17 years and sets the curfew hour at 10 p. m. among other provisions.

In the belief that the matter is one in which "snap judgment" should not be passed, the burgess said he has asked borough officers to observe nocturnal juvenile activities during July. Reports to date show, he said, that a comparatively few youngsters are regularly on the streets in late hours of the night.

The burgess said that several weeks ago a number of local residents had discussed a curfew for Gettysburg with him but that lately he has seen no further indication of local interest in such a measure.

WOMEN NAMED TO WELFARE BD.

Mrs. Henry T. Bream, Gettysburg, and Mrs. Wilbur H. Miller, New Oxford, were named members of the Advisory board of the Adams County Child Welfare Services Tuesday evening. Both were approved for the posts this morning by the Adams county commissioners.

The new members fill the unexpired terms of Miss Kathryn Alwine, New Oxford, and Mrs. John S. Rice, whose resignations were accepted Tuesday evening.

The board held a brief discussion on adoption procedures and use of other agencies in adoption matters. Miss Charlotte Parrish, area director, also attended the meeting. The Rev. Dr. D. F. Putman presided.

New Oxford Girl To Study Japanese

Miss Elizabeth Ann Sheffer, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. George E. Sheffer, New Oxford, is one of 22 persons selected from 3,600 applicants to study the Japanese language at the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colorado. The course is sponsored by the Navy. Members of the Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic fraternity, were eligible. The course will open on July 19 and will continue for four-term months.

Miss Sheffer was graduated from Gettysburg college in 1942 and taught during the last year at Biglerville high school. She is at present visiting in California and will report to the University of Colorado without returning home from the coast.

American warships, shooting it out with the enemy at close quarters, have won a smashing victory in round No. 1 of the battle for naval supremacy in the Solomon islands.

The score: 10 to 1.
"The Japs have taken another damned good licking," Navy Secretary Frank Knox told cheering shipyard workers at Bremerton, Washington.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that U. S. Naval Forces caught the enemy in the narrow confines of Kula gulf, above New Georgia island, and probably sank six Japanese warships and damaged four others—at a cost of one American cruiser—in a flaming night battle July 5-6.

Closing On Munda Base
"Details are not yet available and a final assessment cannot be made," a communique said.

Kula gulf, only 15 miles long and eight miles wide, lies between New Georgia and Kolombangara islands, in the heart of the 700-mile-long Solomons archipelago where American Forces have already captured Rendova island and are closing around the prize Japanese air base at Munda.

Washington, July 7 (AP)—An American naval task force bombarded the Japanese base on Kiska Island last night, the Navy announced today, in an attack apparently coordinated with the United States offensive against Japanese defenses in the South Pacific.

White Plains, N. Y., July 7 (AP)—Lieutenant Commander William Harrison Dempsey, U. S. Coast Guard Reserve, the former world's heavyweight boxing champion, was awarded an interlocking decree of divorce today from Hannah William Dempsey, former musical comedy actress.

Forts Batter Base In Sicily

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 7 (AP)—Flying Fortresses from North Africa and Liberators from the Middle East Command poured hundreds of tons of high explosives and fragmentation bombs on Gerbini airfield in southern Sicily yesterday as the air siege of that vital enemy base soared through its 36th hour.

The all-out effort to knock Gerbini and its four satellite fields from the map appeared nearing completion, photographs revealing terrific damage to administration buildings, hangars, parked aircraft and landing strips from the relentless poundings of the last two days and a night.

It was at Gerbini that Flying Fortress gunners of the Northwest African Command destroyed 41 enemy fighters on Monday, and at least one more Axis plane was shot down during yesterday's double daylight blow.

A Middle East communique said that approximately 50 Liberators participated in yesterday's smash, dropping more than 285,000 pounds of high explosives and fragmentation bombs on the Gerbini fields, covering runways and dispersal areas and leaving large fires burning. One enemy fighter was reported destroyed and two damaged while every Liberator returned safely.

Flying Fortresses from this base struck shortly after dawn and reported hits on an ammunition dump, administration buildings, hangars and five landing strips. Five planes of the Northwest African force were reported missing from the day's operations, against two enemy aircraft destroyed.

Admiral William F. Halsey's South Pacific headquarters, in immediate command of the Solomons offensive, said U. S. forces continued to hold the initiative on land, at sea and in the air.

Mopping Up Japs
The battle of Kula gulf has ended, it was announced, and American troops are still mopping up the Japanese on Rendova and southern New Georgia islands.

Other headlines in the global war: Russia—Moscow says Germans paying terrific price for "insignificant gains" in three-day-old summer offensive; Red armies credited with smashing 1,271 Nazi tanks, 314 planes in first 48 hours; more than 10,000 Germans killed.

Western air war—RAF Mosquito bombers attack railways in Nazi-occupied France; German night raiders machinegun victims in East Anglia, England.

China—Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek calls on United Nations to strike Japan now "to reap great results," says enemy near exhaustion and needs respite.

Blast Jap Boast Again
In the Solomons, the triumph scored by U. S. naval gunners in the battle of Kula gulf marked the second time in four days they had bested the Japanese, thus demonstrating a sharp edge over the enemy who once boasted that he had destroyed the entire Allied fleet in the Southwest Pacific.

A force of three Japanese cruisers and four destroyers was put to flight in a preliminary skirmish off Rendova Island last Saturday, and it was believed then that American warships had set out in pursuit.

While details were still lacking, apparently the fleeing Japanese were reinforced and came back for more, with the Americans promptly obliging. The communique made it clear that the Americans opened the fight, declaring:

"Our naval surface units intercepted an enemy force of cruisers and destroyers in the Kula Gulf."

Planes Finish Destroyer
Imperial Tokyo headquarters asserted that Japanese naval forces had sunk "one enemy cruiser" and set another afire Sunday night in Kula Gulf, and declared that torpedo boats the next morning sank three more Allied war vessels.

After the naval battle, U. S. dive bombers found a damaged Japanese destroyer beached near Sambera harbor and scored seven direct hits with 500-pound bombs, touching off violent explosions and fires, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said.

Four Japanese planes were shot down when they attempted to break up the aerial "coup de grace" on the beached destroyer, and three other enemy aircraft were knocked down by American anti-aircraft fire at Rendova Island, making a total of 164 enemy planes destroyed in the Solomons theater alone.

A communique said that U. S. troops on Rendova had now been reinforced and that furious Japanese air thrusts to check the Allied offensive by new raids on Australia, New Guinea and the Solomons had been broken up.

Nazis Pay "Terrific" Price
Allied fliers were officially credited with shooting down five Japanese bombers and two Zeros out of a 48-plane attack on Darwin, Australia. Seven Spitfires, manned by Australian and British pilots, were lost.

WARNS OF PERIL FROM LAG DUE TO OVERCONFIDENCE

(AP Special)

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's declaration of faith in Allied victory in Japan—the outside limit for which he daringly sets at two years—is pleasing to read on this sixth anniversary of the start of the China-Jap conflict, especially coming as it does from one of the greatest leaders of our time.

However, this statement would be dangerously incomplete without the general's accompanying caution to his people that the "present marks the beginning of the greatest trials." The Allies have before them "the hardest stretch of the road to victory."

As matter of fact, while such encouragement is legitimate for the heavily burdened Chinese people, it's doubtful whether it is particularly beneficial for some of China's Allies. It's likely to inspire overconfidence, as witness the complacency which has developed in some part of the United States since the Allied victory in Tunisia.

We have an echo of this self-satisfaction, I believe, in WPB Chairman Donald Nelson's statement of declines in the output of ground ordnance, miscellaneous munitions and merchant vessels, which he characterizes as a "very serious matter." Only the other day, General Brehon Somervell, commanding general of the Army Supply forces, reported in the magazine Mill and Factory a shocking shortage of weapons and material for the Army. He attributed this in part to over-confidence due to favorable news from the battle front.

Chinese Spirit High

This column has maintained that the American public could stand good news without becoming complacent. Passage of time, however, cause one to wonder whether this judgment is correct. Maybe the propaganda experts who insist that it's necessary to feed the people bad news in order to keep them in fighting mood, aren't so far wrong, abhorrent as the idea must be to most folk.

Anyway, as regards China we are telling nothing less than the cold truth when we point out that her main asset at this moment is the magnificent spirit of her people who for six years have endured suffering which would have broken many nations. This will to win, plus vast reaches of territory to swap with the invaders for time, has enabled them to hold out.

We must recognize that China's ability to assume major offensive operations, or even withstand enemy attacks, depends on the assistance which America and the other Allies can give her. General Chiang has comparatively few resources at his disposal, either to make war or to sustain anything like normal living conditions in the unoccupied regions.

Nippon Weaker

There's no reason to doubt Chiang's view that his great country will hold out and participate with the other Allies in victory. At the same time we shall be stary-eyed indeed if we don't see that he must be banking on Allied aid to turn the trick.

The thing the United Nations have to worry about is whether they can make their help effective soon enough to save China from collapse.

Generalissimo Chiang today issued an appeal to the United Nations to strike in force at Japan immediately because he feels this is the opportune moment "to reap great results" in reducing the time of final victory. He declares Nippon now "is at her weakest as her ready resources are approaching a point of exhaustion."

General Ho Ying-Chin, Chinese war minister, also estimates that Japan has suffered 3,000,000 casualties and says she is facing an acute manpower shortage. He further asserts that Nippon is far weaker in sea strength, has not more than 3,000 first line warplanes and has been surpassed by the Allies in the air, and has difficult material and food problems.

Disaster Possible

As though to emphasize the statements of the great Chiang and his war minister, we get the report of another American naval triumph over the Japs in the Solomons. Meager details indicate that, as Secretary of the Navy Knox puts it, "the Japs have taken another damned good licking." Apparently we have torn a further great hole in the fleet which represents much of Japan's strength in the Pacific.

All this is encouraging to the Allies, but the fact remains that we have before us a titanic job of blasting the Japs out of their hold on China and other occupied countries. Time is of vast importance.

The line is so finely drawn that anything which causes great delay in the execution of our plans might produce a disaster. Complacency here at home might easily do it.

that he has petitioned the PUC at Harrisburg for an extension of the deadline for the completion of work on the new railroad grade crossing on the West High street extension. The borough engineer said the work will be completed in about a week. Delay in the share of the work to be done by the railroad postponed opening of the borough's share of the job, it was explained.

Councilman Stallsmith reported "progress" in the search for an adequate fire and air raid alarm system for the borough and told of the recent visit by local officials to West York to inspect the system in use there.

A 55-cent bill for ice from the Gettysburg Ice and Storage company was okayed. It was stated the ice was used to supply cold drinking water for borough employees. Some of the purchases included in the bill dated back to 1939.

A faulty sewer along the Pius Krout property on York street was reported and ordered investigated.

New Bus Service

Council heard from Mr. Winebrenner that a clogged Imhoff tank at the sewage disposal plant had been corrected and that the sludge pump there needs an overhauling. Mr. Winebrenner also said he is seeking a priority for the purchase of several thousand gallons of oil for street patching purposes.

Burgess Pfeffer stated that he has been notified that application has been made to the PUC at Harrisburg for the establishment of a bus route between Gettysburg and Hanover.

Painting and repairs were ordered for the borough garage building on Race Horse alley. Serious washing was reported on a section of Seminary avenue.

Taxes Coming In

The monthly financial report of the borough was accepted showing $6 collected in fines, $3 in building permits and $324.48 in theatre tax.

The monthly report of Treasurer Basehore showed the general fund balance grew in the last month from $8,886 to the current $11,407 as a result of receipt of about $5,000 in 1943 taxes. Bills and payrolls totaling $3,900 were approved for payment at the meeting.

CHINA GETS FDR GREETING TODAY

Washington, July 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt sent a special short wave radio greeting to the people of China today on the sixth anniversary of their resistance to Japanese aggression.

The message, read for the president in a transmission from San Francisco to Chungking, was followed by excerpts from former addresses by Mr. Roosevelt in his own voice.

"Our friends have long known what our enemies are learning today," the message declared, "that the promises of the United States are always kept and our pledges are always redeemed."

"The statements which follow have been made by me at various times since we joined hands with you in this war. It is good to know that the hopes and the promises I expressed on these former occasions are all being borne out today."

"I send you, the people of China, the heartfelt greetings of your partners, the people of the United States."

a terrific price for "insignificant gains" in the three-day-old summer offensive, but said the Germans were striking again and again in an effort to find weak spots in the Red Army defenses.

In the first two days, Soviet headquarters announced the Germans lost more than 10,000 killed, 1,271 tanks destroyed and 314 planes shot down in savage lunges against Russian defenses on the 165-mile front between Orel and Belgorod.

Blast Nazi Tanks

While expending these prodigious forces, the Germans managed to capture only two unidentified towns near Belgorod and had still failed to achieve a major breakthrough at any point, the Russians asserted.

Frontline dispatches said the Germans sent 300 to 400 tanks into the battle at a time only to have them smashed back by Soviet artillery and low-flying Stormoviks.

Wave after wave of Nazi tanks and infantry struck against Soviet defenses, hit a stone wall, then recoiled for a new thrust in a different sector. As the enemy armored divisions faltered and turned tail, Red Army troops dashed from slit trenches and dugouts to grapple with German infantry in hand-to-hand combat.

STUDY NEW TAX FUND SOURCES

Washington, July 7 (AP)—Congressional and Treasury experts collaborated today in drafting a new tax formula whereby persons whose incomes have increased because of the war will pay a larger share of the war's costs.

Such a plan, if written into law, would apply to individual income the principle of excess profits taxes as now applied against corporate income.

The House Ways and Means Committee yesterday ordered the experts to study and report on the feasibility of such a tax, and at the same time announced it would begin consideration September 8 "on a non-partisan basis" of a new general tax measure with new and higher levies.

Treasury experts and the committee's tax staff were asked to suggest "alternative means of raising additional revenue" including information on a sales tax, the so-called spending tax, compulsory savings and increased individual and corporate income taxes.

OPA FIRES GAS PANEL OF 22

Pittsburgh, July 7 (AP)—In the first action of the kind in this area, District OPA Director Alvin J. Williams discharged Watson McKee, chairman of the suburban McKeesport District Commodity Rationing board and the board's entire gasoline panel of 22 members yesterday.

Williams charged McKee and the other members with "wilfully disregarding the rationing regulations" but gave them until July 9 to apply for a hearing.

Williams cited six specific counts ranging from "favoritism to individuals and companies" to "improperly granting special rations to soldiers."

McKee asserted in reply, that if the board had abided by the letter of the OPA regulations, "war workers of this district would not have gotten to their jobs" and that he felt that was more important than rules.

"I don't know about the rest of the board," McKee continued, "but I've been putting in five nights a week and most of the days on this job ever since rationing started. I wouldn't quit, but it's a relief to get fired."

Proposed Roads

The program includes roads stretching from:

New Stanton, Westmoreland county, northwest to Vandeonten, branching off to Dubois. Estimated length, 200 miles.

Harrisburg to Williamsport and Towanda, 180 miles.

Philadelphia to Easton, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, 130 miles.

Philadelphia to New York, 35 miles in Pennsylvania.

The present Pennsylvania turnpike to the Maryland line, 45 miles.

The turnpike from New Stanton to West Virginia, 80 miles.

Phillipsburg to Oil City, 100 miles.

May Free Bridges

Shroyer said those roads would be in addition to extensions of the present turnpike from Harrisburg to Philadelphia and from Pittsburgh to the Ohio line as well as improvements designed to speed traffic through Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

In another development, the secretary said continuing conferences with owners of 12 remaining toll bridges in Pennsylvania are delaying a final decision on their possible acquisition by the state.

Vacation Gas Ruling Brings Trouble For OPA

Washington, July 7 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration heading for more gasoline rationing troubles today because it decided to permit vacation trips in the east where other transportation is inadequate.

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown announced that beginning July 15, motorists in the 12 northeastern states where pleasure driving is banned, can get permits from their local boards for one round trip anywhere, as long as it can be negotiated on the driver's regular ration of coupons. Outside of these states, vacation driving to the extent of a driver's coupons has not been restricted.

The action immediately stirred protests, however, from many people who can't or don't want to make a long trip, but would like to drive a mile or so for a picnic or a swim, or to visit friends.

The official OPA explanation was "we simply haven't got the gasoline to lift the pleasure ban generally. The one round trip to a vacation place was the best we could do."

Officials conceded privately that enforcement of the ban will become more difficult as a result of the concession.

The vacation grant was extended to holders of "B" and "C" ration books, but OPA emphasized that motorists must make the vacation trips on supplies obtained out of the basic "A" ration only. Thus, the motorist must certify, and satisfy his ration board, that he has sufficient gasoline purchased on "A" coupons to make the complete trip.

Washington, July 7 (AP)—The House refused to budge today in its stand for abolition of the government crop insurance program, and put squarely up to the Senate the proposition of backing down from its insistence on the program or tying up a deficiency appropriation bill.

Stover Resigns As Darby High Coach

Ralph Stover, coach of Darby high school football teams for 16 years, has resigned to accept a business position and will be succeeded by Gil Sasso, former West Chester State Teachers College star and assistant coach at Coatesville.

Stover coached football, baseball and basketball when he came to Darby in 1927 but has confined his activities to football and baseball the last two years. His football teams in the 16-year period won 78, lost 37 and tied 20.

Stover formerly resided in Gettysburg and graduated from Gettysburg college in 1923.

Yankees And Cardinals Boost League Leads; Senators Lose In 16 Innings

DETROIT NEARS THIRD PLACE; DODGERS LOSE

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Next to trying to find a good steak the biggest waste of time a baseball fan can indulge in is worrying about the New York Yankees.

The American league champions went west a week ago and lost four games in a row. They nearly skidded out of first place and they caused some hasty comments to the effect that maybe the McCarthymen weren't miracle men after all.

What it amounted to, however, was that the Yankees were just teasing their rivals. By way of proving that they were only fooling the champs have won three games in the last two days and suddenly zoomed back to a three-game lead.

They whacked out a 5-4 decision over the St. Louis Browns last night to give Marius Russo, the sore-armed southpaw, his first victory of the season and accomplished the stunt in spite of the super-heated hitting of Chet Laabs.

Laabs Hits Hard
Laabs, whose hot hitting streaks in mid-summer are no rarity, drove in all four of St. Louis' runs and collected his tenth home run of the year and fifth in four days. But this individual display was wasted because the Yanks punched a single and three doubles for a four-run rally that sewed up the game in the fifth inning.

The Yankees' return to control of the league lead has been helped by the slump of the second place Washington Senators, who dropped a 16-inning 4-3 game to the Detroit Tigers yesterday for their sixth defeat in eight games of the western trip.

After tying the score at two-all on Bob Johnson's homer in the fourth, the Senators battled 11 scoreless innings and took the lead with a run in the top half of the 16th. Then they gave the game away in the Tigers' turn at bat as Gerry Priddy let in one run on an error and relief pitcher Rae Scarborough forced in the other with two walks.

Milo Candini escaped the defeat, being removed for a pinch-hitter, in the ninth.

The victory lifted the Tigers within a half a game of second place. Lefty Al Smith of the Cleveland Indians shut out the Philadelphia Athletics 2-0 in four hits in a mound duel with Orie Arntzen which was decided when the tribe scored the only runs of the game in the eighth inning.

The St. Louis Cardinals boosted their National league lead back to four games by blanking the Philadelphia Phillies 4-0 on three-hit hurling by Harry Gumbert, who earned his fourth straight victory and sixth of the season. The cards scored three runs before a man was out in the first inning and Gumbert could have coasted, but didn't. He gave just three scattered singles and let only one runner get as far as second.

Meanwhile the Brooklyn Dodgers were humbled 9-4 by the Chicago Cubs, who acquired their first triumph of the year in Ebbetts Field. Claude Passeau, going the route for his seventh win, was tapped for 13 hits while the Cubs made only 10 off three pitchers, but the Bruins bunched theirs for three runs in the first, two in the second and four in the seventh.

In the day's only other game the Boston Braves nosed out the Cincinnati Reds 1-0 in a pitching battle between Al Javery and Ray Starr. Each hurler gave only six hits, but Javery himself singled home the game's lone run in the second inning.

SIX PACERS AT NORTH RANDALL

Cleveland, July 7 (AP)—Six of the nation's fastest-stepping two-year-old pacers line up today in the $2,625 national stake, feature event at North Randall's Grand Circuit Track.

The favorite is Attorney, winner of the American pacing stake last Friday. He paced to victory in second and third heats to take the American, first major victory for owner C. H. Wilkinson, Logansport, Indiana.

Sept Palin will be in the sulky behind Attorney today, vying with Goodbye and Probationer, other strong contenders.

In yesterday's feature attraction, the $1,995 Geers stake for three-year-old pacers, Adios stepped a 2:03 1/2 first mile to fashion a straight-heat victory. The first heat was the fastest mile paced this year in the grand circuit.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, July 7 (AP)—Arne Anderson, Sweden's newest mile record-breaker, is due to try for another of Gunder Haegg's records tomorrow and this time the track fans hereabouts will be ready. . . . Since Arne's 4:02.6 mile last week they've heard a lot about various Swedish steppers, including Anderson, who has run 1,500 meters in 3:48.6, a half mile in 1:50.8, 3,000 meters in 8:11.4 and 5,000 in 14:18.2.

Then there's 22-year-old Rune Gustafson, runner-up to Anderson last week in 4:04.6—he's the real prospect in Sweden—20-year-old Arne Ahlsten, Oke and Arthur Johnson and Harold Kalarne, who all have done 1,500 in about 3:49. . . . Gil Dodds, America's best mile, set his own record for 1,500 at 3:50.2 in winning this year's national title.

WHERE'S THE PLATE
Discussing some of the young flingers in his pet project, the International league, baseball historian Ernie Lanigan recently unearthed a yarn about Charles Comiskey's pitching career to prove that the modern kids have fairly good control. . . . The "Old Roman," one of the game's greatest first basemen, broke in as a hurler with lots of speed and not much else. . . . In his first game in the old American association in 1882, the unidentified reporter relates, he beamed three Columbus players and after the game Chris Von Der Ahe, owner of the St. Louis club, advised him to quit pitching before he was arrested. . . . "It's dis vay, Commie," explained Chris, "if I keep you for a pitcher dere vill be only one team in der association. You vill kill every player in der odder clubs."

HAEGG TRAINS IN LOS ANGELES FOR DODDS RACE

Los Angeles, July 7 (AP)—Gunder Haegg, wispy, long-haired Swedish fireman will do his training in Los Angeles for his two-mile race Saturday with the Boston divinity student, Gil Dodds.

Haegg, who arrived (two hours late) by train from Chicago yesterday, jogged around the Coliseum track and then with his interpreter, trainer and other advisers, went into a huddle from which he emerged with two quick decisions:

First, that the Los Angeles atmosphere satisfied him, and he wouldn't need the mountain breezes of Lake Arrowhead, original training site, to get in shape.

Second, that the race distance would be two miles, although a mile run had been considered.

Quotes Scripture
The bespectacled and Biblical Dodds, who accompanied Haegg west, wasn't given a vote on the distance question. He just shrugged his shoulders and quoted the 14th verse of the fifth chapter of Matthew:

"And whosoever forces thee to go a mile, go with him twain."

The fleet Swede holds the world record for two miles at 8M. 47.8. And Dodds has covered the distance in 8M. 53.6.

Gunder and Dodds ran the two mile event in Chicago last Friday. Gunder winning in 9M. 2.8.

Georgia Football Fanatics Discount Gloomy Outlook

By ROMNEY WHEELER
Athens, Ga., July 7 (AP)—On the word of James Wallace Butts, Jr., the University of Georgia couldn't beat Big Bayou Teachers' at football next fall—and maybe he's right. But no one will convince Georgia's effervescent alumni until the last game is played (and lost).

James Wallace has been the big wolf-and-worry man for so long that friends automatically discount 97 per cent of his wails. Now, when the wolf really is beating down the door, they still expect Wally to produce his annual miracle—and maybe pull the wolf inside to render it for waste fat, besides.

Not a man is left from Georgia's great team which won the Orange Bowl championship Jan. 1, 1942, and the Rose Bowl championship last New Year's. All-America Frankie Sinkwich, his sensational understudy, Charlie Trippi, the place-kicking specialist, Leo Costa, and all the rest are gone. Working out in their place on the soft greensward of Sanford Stadium are 40 gangling 17-year-olds—the sub-draft-age boys who will carry on Georgia's football fortunes if football is played next fall.

Fans Undismayed
Yet Georgia partisans are undismayed. They recollect Wally's way of doing the unexpected.

They recollect, for instance, how he started at Madison (Georgia) A. & M. back in 1928, when the only thing the school could brag about was having the reddest red clay in Georgia. Wally, lacking both players and equipment, returned to his home town of Milledgeville (Georgia) 50 miles away to raise money to buy shoes for his boys.

By 1931 he not only had fairly creditable equipment, but also some pretty creditable players—including four Cubans which he dug up on one of his scouting trips. Practically the only boy at school not out for football was a one-legged kid, and he carried the water bucket. Result was a championship team.

"A fine business," remarked a Milledgeville man. "We buy his team shoes, and then he comes down here and whips hell out of our school."

Taught "Spelling"
One of the legends still going the rounds is that Wally taught spelling, and most of the football players majored in the subject. That was the class-room where they got together to run over plays.

The next year Madison A. & M. lost the state championship in a play-off, but the following season his team won the Southern prep championship by beating Allen Academy of Texas and when Wally laid claim to the national schoolboy crown, nobody cared to dispute it.

From Madison A. & M. Wally went to Georgia Military College—where, legend has it, he even induced the commandant to come out for football—and thence to Louisville (Ky.) Male High, where he continued his success in schoolboy football. His talent for finding and developing gridiron talent may have had something to do with it, but that is beside the point.

Made Head Coach
They tell a story around Louisville that Wally once considered importing some Chinese football players, but found so many promising giants in the mountains near home that he never got around to the experiment. Meanwhile he got an offer from the University of Georgia, where he has been doing business ever since.

His first season he was assistant to Coach Joel Hunt. Then he became head coach in 1939. That autumn Frankie Sinkwich came to Georgia, along with other future headliners, and business began to pick up. The boys broke even in 1940, won all but one game in 1941 and went to the Orange Bowl. Last season they won the Southeastern Conference championship, and wound up beating U. C. L. A. in the Rose Bowl.

Wally will tell you it's impossible to keep up that pace without players or a reasonable facsimile thereof—but alumni still are hopeful.

ALL STARS PREP FOR PRO CHAMPS
Chicago, July 7 (AP)—Here's a coaching staff of five experienced fellows; they have 17 fine football players who are assured of reporting for practice next month—and many more on the way.

It's the 1943 college All-Stars, who on August 25 will be pitted against the champions of the National Football league—this year the Washington Redskins—for the 10th time, in Dwyer Stadium in suburban Evanston.

The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., sponsors of the game, have compiled a roster of excellent collegians. Some of them have not yet ended their university careers but special conference eligibility rulings are taking care of that. Most of them are enroute to the service, and some are already in but will play while on leave. The majority of them expect to play their last football "for the duration" in this game.

Eastern Loop Tussle Warms

(By the Associated Press)
The tussle between Albany and Binghamton over third place in the Eastern League reaches a boil tonight on the Triplets' home field.

The Senators will endeavor to improve the half-game margin by which they hold the spot. Binghamton, on the other hand, will be asserting its right to a berth it wrested not long ago from the Elmira Pioneers, who by a mighty effort last night were able to keep on the sunny side of the 500 mark though in fifth place.

Albany sluggers belted out an almost unbelievable array of 23 hits at Utica last night to wallop the Braves, 14-3.

At Elmira, meanwhile, the Pioneers closed a three-game series with Binghamton by blasting the Triplets, 7-2.

Saratoga, Wilkes-Barre, Hartford and Springfield were idle.

Montgomery Back In South League

Montgomery, Ala., July 7 (AP)—Baseball-hungry Montgomery, its uniformed pockets jingling with money, was welcomed back into the Southern association baseball family today with the promise of better days for troubled league executives.

The whole family seemed happy last night following announcement of the transfer here of the Chattanooga, Tennessee franchise. The possible exception was Lookout President Joe Engel, who this year held not a single elephant hunt in his lonely ball park, past scene of some of baseball's strangest stunts.

MORE FARM TOOLS

Harrisburg, July 7 (AP)—Many hard-to-get farm tools will be made available to Pennsylvania farmers in the near future by the United States Department of Agriculture's State War board.

Chairman James D. Walker said several thousand shovels, sledges and brush hooks were turned over to his agency by the WPA and that methods of distributing them to farmers are being studied.

GARDEN STATE PARK OPENING

By ED CREAGH

Camden, N. J., July 7 (AP)—Prayed against, inveighed against, even OPA'd against, Garden State Park opens today for 50 days of racing, and about the only other thing that could happen would be for all the horses to be drafted.

White-haired Eugene Mori, the Vineland, New Jersey, banker who built the nation's newest racing grounds last spring, estimated with crossed fingers that 12,000 improvers of the breed would be at the freshly-manicured park.

Last year a neighborhood clergyman led his congregation in prayer that rain would delay completion of the grounds. This year the Office of Price Administration—besides ruling customers off the highways under the pleasure driving ban—denied fuel for the association's tractors, scoop shovel and the like.

But Garden State opened last year—with 31,000 who wagered $569,000—and, using fuel "on hand," hiring 50 women among the 400 pari-mutuel operators, conveying the faithful by horse-and-wagon from the nearest bus stops, it's set again today.

Benjamin Franklin waged a vigorous campaign to have the turkey, rather than the eagle, designated as the national emblem.

The university announced that games with Swarthmore, Case and Muhlenberg had been cancelled by mutual agreement. Athletic Director E. F. Caraway said home-and-home games among Lehigh, Rutgers and Lafayette are under serious consideration.

PRAYER

When all the smoke has cleared away

And silent are the guns;
When home come once again to stay
Our daughters and our sons;

When sheathed is every flashing blade
And every fox hole filled,
God grant the peace that shall be made

Will keep the cannon stilled.

When all this agony is done
And comforted the pain,
God grant the peace that shall be won
Shall not be lost again.

God grant, when tyranny shall fall
And all its power has passed
When freedom has been won for all,
This war shall be the last!

Today's Talk

THE EMPTY NEST

There is nothing more beautiful than the world of Nature. I looked forward to, and welcomed, the Springtime this year—as in all other years—with great joy. Spring is the beginning of things to such a large degree. The leafing of the trees, the return of the birds, and their nesting time, which is such an interesting and inspiring spectacle.

Outside my window, just a few feet from where I write, is a blue jay's nest. Three small birds reach their open mouths to receive food from their mother bird. I have watched that nest from the time when it was so carefully built. It is an example of a united and happy family—and I wish it well.

At the rear of my home, however, I watched the day by day building of a thrush's nest. I am a lover of thrushes and each day I anxiously awaited the birth of a little family in that nest. But, in Nature's sphere of life, as well as in our own, there are always enemies and tragedies. One day an evil crow tried to wreck that nest and there was a great commotion. Friendly birds of another caste came to the rescue, and my hopes were that all danger had passed. I watched the mother bird again take her nest, and sitting there, watchfully, my hopes ran high. But alas, something happened—today the nest is deserted. The empty nest, in silence, tells its tragic story. Its home-building all in vain!

I thought of these two nests as I sat down to write. I thought to myself that life is like that. Some homes are vibrant with joy and a united family, others empty or broken by the tragic course of events. Many an empty home nest is scattered about this world today. But, like that beautiful thrush, somewhere, somehow, I am sure that memories of the building remain fresh, and intact.

Each day now I view that empty thrush's nest with sorrow, but I am hoping happier days are ahead for the faithful mother bird who built that remarkable nest that I watched so eagerly and with such anticipation.

My thoughts, as well as, extended to that time when the broken homes of the world will again know peace and their deserved restoration. My prayer is, that God will comfort and bless those who will take up the task of rebuilding—even the tragically empty ones.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Confidence."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

5,000 Prisoners During The Week—London, July 6—During the last week the Entente Allies on the Western Front have taken more than 5,000 prisoners. New Oxford Has Largest Crowd: New Oxford had the largest crowd in its history Thursday evening when it celebrated Independence Day with a flag raising and parade. It was the most pretentious event ever staged in that town and was the idea of Joseph H. Himes, a former resident, now successfully engaged in business in Canton, Ohio.

Mr. Himes had donated to the town a 100-foot steel flag pole, and a large flag. In addition he paid all the expenses of July Fourth, including the bands, decorations, and so on.

Production Of Planes And Ships Reached New High In May

MUNITIONS LAG HELD SERIOUS BY NELSON OF WPB

Washington, July 7 (AP)—Production of planes and naval vessels reached new highs in May, the War Production Board's monthly report showed today, but the over-all output of munitions remained unchanged from April.

WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson's report noted declines in ground ordnance, miscellaneous munitions and merchant vessels, which he described as a "very serious matter." The decline in merchant vessels was based on the value of work put in place in shipyards, however, and not on the basis of actual deliveries, which in May were the highest so far with nearly 1,800,000 deadweight tons.

Of the four major programs, merchant ships led in the first six months of the year, with 44 per cent of the 1943 goal achieved. Army ordnance and the output of naval vessels and equipment were estimated at 40 per cent of the 1943 goals, and aircraft 35 per cent.

May Record
"We cannot afford to relax our efforts for an instant," Nelson said. "On the contrary, we must prepare ourselves to meet calmly and steadily the greatest strains to which we may ever be subjected."

The May production scorecard, as compared with April:

Total munitions, unchanged; aircraft and aircraft equipment, up 5 per cent; ground ordnance, down 3 per cent; Navy and Army vessels (value put in place), up 2 per cent; merchant vessels (value put in place), down 4 per cent; miscellaneous munitions, down 7 per cent.

Increase In Ships

Without disclosing figures, Nelson reported the "tendency continued to be toward production of heavier planes." "Heavier planes" would include four-engine bombers to carry the war to the enemy.

Naval vessels aggregating 204,000 displacement tons were completed in May, an increase of 30 per cent over April, and 9 per cent over the best previous month. "Marked progress" was reported in delivery of destroyer-escort vessels.

Munitions now are being turned out at an annual rate of $60,000,000,000, and Nelson predicted the total for 1943 would run beyond $65,000,000,000.

FREE PRESS IS THREATENED BY WPB IS CLAIM

Washington, July 7 (AP)—Rep. Maas (R-Minn.) disclosed today he intends to try to back up with restrictive legislation his assertions that the War Production Board threatened the "freedom of the press" by its handling of newspaper quotas.

Maas told the House yesterday that WPB, which has ordered a new reduction in newspaper for the present quarter ranging up to five per cent for the larger newspapers, was:

1. Using control of production "for censorship."

2. Favoring some publishers over others.

3. Operating with no rules, or standards, and "in star chamber proceedings," issuing "secret orders from which there is no appeal."

Asks Public Decisions
Maas said he was preparing a bill that would require the WPB to make all its decisions public, in the case of each newspaper or magazine publication requesting additional white paper, how much time was required handling the case, why the delay, if any, and the entire proceedings would be submitted to Congress each month.

The report also would include details of appeals from the WPB's printing division, and why they were granted or denied.

"This procedure will assure to the people that under the guise of rationing a lessened supply of paper will not be abused now or in the future nor used to subversively gain control of the press of this country," said Maas. "With a free press, we will always be a free people."

Cites Own Experience
Maas said he had a personal experience with WPB's handling of white paper allotments. He told the House an officer who served in the south Pacific signed a contract to write a book about the Pacific. The publisher was told by a WPB official "that he could have no paper for any such purpose." Maas later told reporters he was the officer.

The Congressman, serving with the Marine corps aviation branch in World War One, was on active duty as a Marine Lieutenant Colonel for a time in this conflict.

"It is apparent that these bureaucrats are seeking to dominate what is published by controlling the allotment of white paper," he asserted.

A sea-lion eats 40 pounds of marine life a day.

GENERAL BAKER IN COMMAND OF PA. STATE GUARD

Harrisburg, July 7 (AP)—Milton G. Baker took command of the Pennsylvania State Guard today as a brigadier-general with a pledge to use every means at his disposal to develop "a well disciplined, tactically sound protective service prepared for any internal emergency."

His appointment and promotion from colonel were announced by Governor Martin who told his press conference he was determined to raise the guard to "a high state of efficiency."

Gen. Baker, now superintendent of the Valley Forge Military academy, has had 25 years' experience with the Pennsylvania National Guard and the U. S. Army.

The State Guard is a voluntary force of 4,000 men and 212 officers which replaced the National Guard after the latter was called into federal service. The State Guard was placed under Brig. Gen. Robert M. Vail who now continues his duties as adjutant general and chief of the Military Affairs department, which takes in the Guard.

Field Training in July
In a statement, Gen. Baker expressed gratification for the appointment and said he planned an immediate study of the present Guard setup. He added: "Knowing the regimental commanders of the present Guard and their past efficient records, I have every reason to believe we will reach our training objectives with the least possible delay."

Gen. Baker served in the first World War with the Field Artillery. He was affiliated later with the War department and spent most of 1920 and 1921 at Culver Military academy. Appointed captain of the 103rd Cavalry in November, 1921, he served the regiment as adjutant, troop commander, squadron commander and regimental commander. He has served on tours of duty as assistant chief of staff G1 of the 28th Division and inspector general of the Pennsylvania National Guard. The Guard will receive its first field training at encampments July 31 to August 21 at Indiantown Gap. A training school for officers will be held at Valley Forge July 23-25.

WON'T NEED DADS IN JULY

Philadelphia, July 7 (AP)—Pennsylvania fathers had the assurance of Lieut. Col. George H. Hafer, acting state director of Selective Service, that they will not be needed to help fill July draft quotas.

Col. Hafer made the statement following a sample check of the manpower available in 25 of Philadelphia's 85 draft boards.

He declined to estimate whether fathers would have to be called in August provided national Selective Service regulations which now defer them are amended by that time.

Col. Hafer said 913 war plants in the state have filed acceptable replacement schedules by which 61,886 of 102,461 draft-liable men are to be released to the armed forces within the next six months.

In other draft developments yesterday, five-year prison sentences were imposed by U. S. District Judge Guy K. Bard on Hazen L. Ordway, 31, of Easton, Pa., and New York, charged with failure to report for physical examination, and Roy Franklin Goldberg, 21, a member of the Hedgerow theatre group, charged with failure to report for induction.

A plea for leniency in the case of Ordway, whom he described as a sincere conscientious objector, was made by an attorney, Richard T. McSorley, whose two sons are war prisoners of the Japanese.

Judge Bard suspended a 60-day sentence imposed on Reginald T. Kirkwood, found guilty two weeks ago of failing to report for examination, on condition that he apply immediately for Army induction. Kirkwood, 22, is a son of Joe Kirkwood, noted golf professional.

"Diehards" Stay Out On Strike

Pittsburgh, July 7 (AP)—A group of diehard striking miners called today upon other "no contract-no work" holdouts to picket operating steel company owned "captive" pits along the Monongahela river in southwestern Pennsylvania.

While virtually every other mining district in the nation was back to work after two weeks of confusion over failure of the United Mine Workers to obtain a contract and extra pay for underground travel, the "insurgents" held a three-hour meeting late yesterday in Brownsville, Pa.

The 350-seat Moose temple was jammed by men from half a dozen mines still idle and after a shoe and a chair had been tossed at a speaker suggesting all go back to work, the gathering decided to inaugurate "some organized picketing."

Suspect?

A man held at Cheyenne, Wyo., as a suspect in the mysterious slayings of three Wyoming residents told police he was Howard W. Pickell, 26, of Syracuse, N. Y. This picture of Pickell was made when he was arrested in Syracuse several years ago.

FOOTWEAR FOR ATHLETES NOW RATION FREE

Announcement has been made by the Harrisburg District OPA office that baseball, track and football shoes will be released from rationing after today. Gold and silver evening slippers and men's and women's riding boots which are in stock or in process of manufacture, also will be released from rationing although ration stamps will be required to purchase such footwear imported into this country after today.

The types of athletic shoes released are not suitable for general wear and their production is under wartime limitations which make rationing control unnecessary. Baseball, track and football shoes are being made in limited quantities and manufacture of riding boots have stopped entirely.

OPA states, however, that only men's and women's knee high laced boots may be sold ration free. This includes riding boots which are laced over the instep but does not include any full lace boots, jodphurs, or cowboy boots because these types also fill many general wear purposes and must continue to be sold only against ration currency.

Operators of certain types of recreational facilities such as bowling alleys will be authorized to apply for ration certificates permitting purchase of athletic shoes for loan or rental under another OPA amendment effective July 17. Oper-

Butler, Pa., July 7 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Overheim, of Parker's Landing, were notified by the War Department yesterday that their son, Staff Sergeant Charles F. Overheim, U. S. Army Air Forces, has been missing in action since June 25. He was decorated with three oak leaf clusters the day before he disappeared.

MARTIN AND THE 28TH

Altoona, Pa., July 7 (AP)—Governor Edward Martin plans to attend the 30th annual convention of the Society of the 28th Division, AEP, which will be held here July 15, 16 and 17. He is a former commander of the division.

"Where there is objection to using lead arsenate, it is suggested that three pounds of aluminum sulphate and 20 pounds of hydrated lime in 100 gallons be used. Hydrated lime at the rate of 20 pounds in 100 gallons of water will be helpful as a repellent spray, and is often used whenever other materials are not obtainable.

"More detailed information on protecting plants from Japanese beetle can be secured at the office of the county Agricultural Extension association in the court house."

There was some hope in the hearts of Captain Taute and others in the south end of town today as they watched blackbirds, which apparently have been following the beetle infestation, carefully comb the grounds for the beetles. The Japanese insects are better than 20 per cent protein and while they are not being pests to man, to the blackbird they prove tempting morsels of food.

LOSER TAKE ALL

Chapter 28

Ann relieved Jerry, but when the doctor came an hour later Jerry was back. He had changed to a fresh uniform and looked completely the officer again.

He and Dr. Miller came to the bed. The boy stirred.

After listening to his respiration, checking his pulse and temperature, the doctor raised up. "He's better. I think he may escape any serious complications."

"Miss Harrington should get the credit for that," said Jerry smiling at Ann.

"You've saved many lives," Dr. Miller told her and grasped her hand to thank her. "But you've undertaken a big job. We're going to have to find homes for these people, and," he shook his head doubtfully, "that'll be hard to do in Radville."

Jerry said, "I'm sure Ann will agree they can stay here as long as necessary."

"I may not agree to that," a man's voice rasped from the doorway. They turned to see Mr. Baxton stalking to his desk. He was followed by Sarah and Bert.

"I've wasted ten days trying to make a deal," Mr. Baxton growled. "I've got clients all lined up to buy it and you turn the place into a tourist camp!"

"Go on," said Jerry.

He went on. "I prove the girl's got no claim. I get the papers ready to sign and what do you do? You say 'I'll think it over'." He pounded his fist on the desk. "Think it over while $30,000 goes out the window!"

"Twenty thousand dollars," corrected Jerry.

"Twenty thou—" the little lawyer's face grew red and then purple.

"Twenty thousand!" echoed Sarah and her teeth chattered with rage. "So the scheme didn't work!" She clenched her hand into claws and started for Mr. Baxton.

Bert grabbed her. "Don't be a damn fool again."

"Again?" she whirled on him now. "Yes, you almost ruined us with those plans you had Johnson & Johnson draw up." His voice was as cold as hers was hot. "The place is not worth $10,000 today. Mr. Newton and Mrs. Fay have just left."

"No loss," said Jerry and Ann glancing at him wasn't sure whether he referred to the star guests, the decrease in the value of Terrence House or the exposure of the scheme.

whereby Mr. Baxton was going to make a little money at the expense of everyone. "As far as I know the house is not for sale."

"Not for sale?" It was a chorus of raised brows and dropped jaws.

"No it is not for sale." Jerry looked at Sarah and she flung up her chin in a gesture of defiance. "I told Sarah so right before last in the library when she made such a display of affection to wheedle out of me the will I didn't have."

A display of affection? Ann thought swiftly and knew by the flush on Sarah's face that Jerry spoke the truth.

"It occurred to me then," Jerry continued, "that she had an abnormal interest in the whereabouts of that will. She and her partner," he swung around to face Bert, "but you were playing both sides, weren't you, Doctor? If the house went to Ann you thought you'd marry it. If it went to me you'd throw in with Sarah and buy it cheap. At least as cheap as Mr. Baxton would let you."

"Where does this leave me?" blurted Mr. Baxton.

"Right where you came in," replied Jerry. "You see I'm convinced Mrs. Terrence wanted the house to go to Miss Harrington. If the will is never found and the inheritance comes to me, I intend to turn it all over to her." His arm went around Ann's shoulders. "With my love."

When at last Ann and Jerry were alone, she turned to him, her heart beating sure and strong. "You'd give Terrence House to me?"

"Yes, Ann. It belongs to you."

She shook her head. "No, Jerry. It doesn't belong to me. It doesn't belong to either of us. With the guest suites turned into efficiency apartments and the big main floor converted into rooms for community living, Terrence House for the duration belongs to these trailer families. It would give them a home so defense work could go on."

He took her into his arms then. "It's yours to do with as you wish. Without any strings. But later if you'll have me."

"Oh, Jerry!" Her heart rose with her lips to meet his long, exultant kiss.

"There's something I'll always wonder," Ann said finally. "That paper you took from the hand shaped vase? Was it something important?"

He tucked a finger under her chin and gazed down into her eyes. "It wasn't the will, Ann. It was only

New Oxford

New Oxford. — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, who have made their home for several years in an apartment in the Park hotel, moved during the week to the Raffensperger property on Hanover street, which had been the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Alwine, who moved last week to another house here.

Miss Iris Sheely, daughter of the Rev. Howard E. Sheely, former Reformed pastor of this place, and Mrs. Sheely, is reported to be improved after a serious illness of the past three months. The Sheely family now reside in Hanover.

Mrs. Earl Weaver and Raphael H. Smith observed their forty-third birthday on Sunday. Mrs. Weaver is the former Miss Carrie Smith, twin sister of Raphael Smith.

Mrs. William D. Himes and Mrs. Lynne Grove were hostesses to the an old contract. Something about a heating plant."

"A heating plant?" She couldn't keep the guilty surprise out of her voice.

"Then you know, too?"

"Yes, I know, Jerry."

"I found the contract and investigated the place in the bluff where old Gibbs stays. But the way you felt about your grandmother . . . well, I didn't want you to know."

"And when Sarah and I pressed you for the paper, you burned it!"

"Oh, Jerry, we've been such fools!"

Her eyes were wet with tears of happiness and she knew at last that the long envelope she found in the bird cage was of no value to her. If Jerry was thoughtful enough to hide Grand Gussie's secret, gallant enough to deny his claim to the estate, she'd be too big to spoil his fine gesture by proving it all unnecessary.

Turning away she drew the envelope from her pocket. She didn't need to read the contents again to know what it said. "I, Augusta Terrence, being of sound mind and disposing memory do hereby declare this to be my last will and testament . . . and to my beloved granddaughter, Ann Harrington, I bequeath my entire estate to have and to hold for her heirs and assigns forever . . ."

Ann folded the will, tore it into tiny pieces.

"Winner take all," Bert had said but Bert was wrong. By losing Terrence House she was winning something infinitely more precious.

She dropped the pieces of the will into the waste basket at her side. "Something you didn't want?" Jerry said.

"Something I wanted enough to throw away," she said happily.

New York, July 7 (AP)—Every time the listeners think Phil Baker doesn't supply the correct response to an unanswered question in his CBS quiz they seldom fail to rush to the telephone.

During Phil's latest show, he wanted the contestants to give the name of the American commander in the European theater. When nobody did, he said it was Lieut. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, killed recently in an airplane accident at Iceland.

Thereupon the phone barrage to advise that it now is Lieut. Gen. Jacob L. Devers. While Baker bears the brunt of these listener reactions, actually it is his researchers who are responsible. He just reads the cards they supply.

DROP PLAN FOR TEST BLACKOUT

Harrisburg, July 7 (AP)—Pennsylvania's scheduled blackout for tomorrow night has been called off at the direction of the Office of Censorship.

The State Council of Defense cancelled the state-wide "educational test" after notification by the Army's Third Service Command in Baltimore that permission to hold the drill had been revoked by censorship officials.

Planned for 10:30 p. m., the rehearsal was to have been marked by participation of 45 Pennsylvania radio stations, which planned to broadcast full instructions during the test.

Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, defense council director, said "It is our understanding that the Office of Censorship held radio participation in such an educational blackout would be in violation of the provision in the code that use of radio in practice blackouts would tend to create confusion in that it might cause people to depend on radio in a real raid when radio would be off the air."

James C. Smith, fired at them four times with a sawed-off shotgun before their bullets dropped him. Previously, Henry Seheeren, 38, manager of a butcher shop adjoining the check-cashing establishment, had struck him with a meat cleaver. Checks and cash totalling nearly $4,000 were recovered, police reported. The robbery charge was placed after the youth's injuries were treated at a hospital.

IS THIS A TRADE?

I'll take care of the fighting if you'll take care of the Food!

There is a food crisis in America! We need more food production than ever before in our history!

Food for our fighting men, food for our Allies, food for ourselves. We especially need food in cans because it can be shipped wherever it is most urgently needed.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

We will need more food in 1943 than ever before, but we will be short of help to pick and pack our local crops.

That is why this appeal is being made to every able-bodied man, woman, and child to be prepared to make this picking and packing of precious food a community job. Actually, it is more than a job—it is a duty!

When you realize the sacrifice our boys at the front are making for America, you will know that we can never repay in full what they are doing for us.

This is our opportunity to work in common cause with those to whom we owe so much.

Let's make sure of Victory on the Food Front. Let's all work together and be ready to pledge our help!

STEUBER TO NAVY

Chicago, July 7 (AP)—The Chicago Bears hope they get a few touchdowns out of Missouri's Bob Steuber before the Navy gets him. Although Steuber is awaiting a call from the Navy, in which he has enlisted, the Bears signed up the fleet halfback for the 1943 National Football league season. He'll report to the Bears after the college All-Star game in which he hopes to face the Washington Redskins, professional champions, August 25.
